Diagram of the state machine used to implement the command-line interface.

The escape key will return to the MainMenu state, from the MainMenu it will shut down the application.